A. B. STICKNEY, EDITOR

STILLWATER:
Tuesday, June 7, 1864.

Special Election.

Z. H. Foss having failed to qualify as Mayor under the recent election the council has ordered another election on Thursday next.

New Developments—Stillwater wants a railroad.

In an article published several months since advocating the building of a railroad from St. Paul to the head of navigation on the St. Croix and thence in a direct line to Lake Superior we advanced the idea that such a road, connecting at St. Paul with the Minnesota Central would open a large home market for our manufactured lumber. That it would in fact enable us to compete with Minneapolis & St. Anthony for the lumber trade of the interior counties and owing to the superiority of our market both in matter of quality and quantity of raw material would place it in the front rank.

This proposition has since been practically demonstrated. At the present time while we are sending down the river immense rafts of manufactured and unmanufactured lumber the Minneapolis market does not afford lumber enough to make the finishing boards of a "seven by nine shanty." The result is that purchasers are seeking a supply in our market even at the expense of overland transportation. This trade is constantly increasing. Every day may be seen long trains of wagons loaded with lumber leaving our city destined for St. Paul and points beyond. With cheap railroad communication it is easy to see what an immense retail trade in lumber would soon spring up at this point supplying not only St. Paul and vicinity but the immense territory of timberless prairie situated between the Mississippi and the Minnesota rivers and resulting alike for the benefit of the producer and consumer.

The work on the Minnesota Central (Cedar Valley) road is being pushed energetically forward. A portion of the iron has already arrived, and in a few days the company will commence laying the track. And it seems to us that the time has come when the citizens of Stillwater should wake to the interests of its railroad communications.

We must look sharply at the action of our next Legislature in reference to the new land grant, or we shall wake when it is too late, to find ourselves encircled—St. Paul having all the tricks.

Southern Illinois.

A writer in the Chicago Tribune gives the following words of cheer in regard to the change of feeling, in reference to National matters, in the Southern part of that State. Let us hope that even Egypt, with all its darkness, ignorance and the bed-fellow of ignorance—Democracy—may yet learn to smile upon democracy. It is expecting much, but Providence and General Grant can work miraculous "changes of base," and public opinion. We give an extract: "All accounts from Southern Illinois for some time past have referred to the great changes going on there in the opinions and relations of the people toward the war policies of the Government. The change in many counties is wonderful. No blatant Copperhead is permitted to blurt out his treason without immediate personal rebuke, and this, where the most rabid pro-slavery doctrines have for years had unlimited sway. True, there are exceptions in some sections where the Knights of the Golden Circle and other secret agents of Jeff Davis do congregate; but taking the different Congressional Districts as a whole, persons well informed assure us that there is more certainty of carrying the twelfth and thirteenth for the Republican Union candidates than either of the two central Districts."

Treason and traitors can no longer bear sway in any considerable portion of our noble State. Till the flag of the Union floats in triumph from the Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, secured by the hand or the tongue that would stay the onward march of the armies of Freedom."

Among the many articles of interest which will be found at the approaching Sanitary Fair at Pittsburgh, is a piano, once the property of Gen. Washington, now belonging to a gentleman living in Barnesville, Ohio, who has loaned it for exhibition on the occasion. The piano was ordered from London by Gen. Washington, for Mrs. Custis, a member of his family, who remained at Mount Vernon until the estate passed into the hands of John A. Washington, according to the will.

Gen. Hunter has issued a general order stating that the army is to live upon the country through which it passes, and if necessary horses and mules are to be butchered for meat.

The Dual Campaign—The Two Objectives Bunched.

From the St. Paul Press.

Sherman keeps such even step with Grant, and moves in such perfect harmony of time and space with him, that it would almost seem as if they were marching to the sound of the same martial music.

In its salient strategic features, Sherman's campaign is almost a duplicate of Grant's, all his advantages thus far having been gained by outflanking the enemy. Dalton, Resaca and Atlanta, in the manner of their taking, are nearly the exact counterparts of Orange Court house, Spottsylvania, and the North Anna. While Grant was executing his last flanking movement on the right of Lee's work on the South Anna, Sherman was doing the same thing, and quite as effectually on Johnson's left to wrench position at Atlanta. At the close of the seven days' battles he was twenty-five miles from Richmond. If he lost 15,249 men in gaining twenty miles away from Richmond, how many would he have had to sacrifice to carry him into Richmond on a prolongation of that line of march?

MCCLELLAN ARITHMETIC.—The New York World, which is disconsolate at the prospect of success on any other than McClellan's pious route, says that in the seven days' battle, ending with Malvern, McClellan's total losses were 15,249 men, and that then he was with half the distance from Richmond that Grant has gained with a loss of forty thousand.

The Cincinnati Gazette in reply remarks that doubtless forty thousand is a largely exaggerated figure for Grant's, but let that pass. We suppose again that McClellan's losses—say 7,000 or 8,000—at Seven Pines, should be added to the cost of his progress from the Chickahominy to James River; but we are willing to take the World's calculation. On the Chickahominy McClellan reported himself five miles from Richmond. At the close of the seven days' battles he was twenty-five miles from Richmond. If he lost 15,249 men in gaining twenty miles away from Richmond, how many would he have had to sacrifice to carry him into Richmond on a prolongation of that line of march?

A Federal Officer who Works for Nothing and finds Himself.

Cincinnati Commercial has the following account of a man in an office who actually works for nothing and finds himself: "I can only happen to know another, who will thank him to send us his portrait and biography. The Commercial's Washington correspondent says:

"A few weeks since, I wrote of a man who didn't want an office. Now I have a still more startling fact to announce—a man who holds an office under the Government, works hard, and won't take any pay for it? The rara avis is Mr. Whiting, Solicitor of the War Department, and the case, as related to the office of the War Department, is as follows:

The first day of summer thus blooms and blossoms with the rich promise of a glorious harvest and, with like success in the future, the first day of Autumn will shake the last mellow fruit of victory that still hangs to the desolate branches of the rebel tree into the laps of our invincible armies.

Gen. Sherman having asked the Superintendent of a Construction Train what time it would take to replace the bridge near Resaca, and having been told that it would take at least four days—replied, "Sir, I give you forty-eight hours, or a position in the front ranks before the enemy!" The bridge was completed in that time.

The principal reason of Louis Napoleon's inactivity and lack of warlike spirit is in consequence of the state of his health. He is said to have Bright's disease—the kidney—a complaint that is certain to carry off its victim in one or two years at furthest. If such is the case, the end of an active reign draws near.

Congressman Voorhees of Indiana, distinguished for his copperheadism, has written a letter to his constituents declaring that for personal reasons he will not consent to be a candidate for re-election to Congress. A happy riddance.

The new court authorized to be issued has already appeared. They are almost entirely copper. The circumference of the new coin is the same as that of the nickelcents, but they are thinner and much lighter.

Willis' paper of last week contains a lengthy and very interesting letter from Gutzschhau. It appears that he is sick of pimons. He says: "I like to imagine myself in a paradise, where piano concerts are prohibited, and the Carnival of Venice with variations, a crime. On the other hand, I picture the Styx as a grand depot of all kinds of pianos—upright, square, oblique and what not—a kind of Botany Bay for hardened pianists—where a never satisfied public insinuates that the Carnival of Venice forever."

A lady residing in Cincinnati, who is said to be a highly accomplished and most respectable member of society, recently became infatuated with a desire to visit a gambling saloon. Her friends finally gratified her wishes, and she patronized a first-class faro bank, bet her money and drank her bourbon, smoked cigars and dissipated generally in a manner worthy the most accomplished sport of the other sex. She finally retired from the scenes of depravity, whether any wiser than when she entered the account does not state.

The Mayor of Fredericksburg is named Slaughter—a very appropriate appellation. When our wounded began crowding into that town, the Mayor and some of his friends, in the full zeal of their rebellious hearts, marched three hundred of the sufferers into the rebel lines. Slaughter and several prominent citizens were afterward put into the guard house—but this would seem a mild penalty for their crime.

Grant is still pressing the enemy back on the Chickahominy.

COWARDLY OFFICERS.—A letter from Washington says: "The officers who lately ran away from the battlefield in Virginia, and came to Washington under the mere pretense of being wounded, are being treated by the government with deserved severity. A court martial is in session here by which eleven of these cowardly men have been ordered back to their regiments and to be reduced to the ranks. Eleven of them went off yesterday and four of them were in chains. This looks like earnest work on the part of the government and is cheering."

STILLWATER:

UNION PRESIDENTIAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT:

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT:

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

Abraham Lincoln for President.

The renomination of Abraham Lincoln has been so long considered a matter of course that its announcement could hardly be expected to be received with demonstrative enthusiasm. But notwithstanding the unusual quietness, there never was a nomination made which gave more general satisfaction. Whatever opinions loyal men may have held heretofore respecting the most proper person to exercise the high functions of the presidential office during the next four years, the unprecedent action of the recent Cleveland movement, we apprehend has had a strong tendency to unite all factions upon the present nomine.

The stomach revolts against admitting pills although sugar coated, so it is with the genuine radical loyalists, who, at first, were inclined to look with favor upon a diversion in favor of a more radical leader of the party—few are so enamored as to be willing to gulp down the notorious John Cochrane and the petty spitefulness of Gen. Fremont's acceptance; for the delicious sweetness of the recollection of that unselfish patriotism which they once fondly believed to be John Charles Fremont's. The illusion exists no longer.

Cochrane the basest of the truckling hordes of Northern doughfuses and the Framton of '58, the idol of the radicals, could never affiliate. They are so opposite and ternally dis-united as is error and truth, the darkness of perdition and the brightness of that realm within the Purple Gates.

After these developments every honest radical must give his earnest support to the Baltimore nominees, and especially since the platform and the whole proceedings of that convention which we publish elsewhere brings his nomination within the limits of conscientious support of even the most radical of the radicals. The third resolution, in our opinion, covers the extreme ground on the slavery question which such an one could desire.

And the adoption of the 6th resolution completely upsets the last point upon which the most factious can hang a plow of opposition.

Lincoln with Blair and Bates "on the shelf" is good enough!

Local and Miscellaneous News.

A. B. EASTON, Editor.

THE SIXTH REGIMENT is under marching orders, and is expected to leave for Little Rock, Arkansas, to-day.

MORE RAFTS.—Four log rafts, containing about 2,000,000 feet, left here on Saturday last, towed by the Clara Howe.

We are again under obligations to Senator Williamson and Representative Dooley for valuable Congressional documents.

ALLOTMENT.—Company C, Eighth regiment, has allotted eight hundred and seventy-two dollars. The money is in the hands of the State Treasurer ready for distribution.

LIEUT. JACOB MURRAY of this city, late of the First Minnesota, receives the sum of six hundred dollars for going as a substitute for a drafted man.

The Winona Republican of the 8th speaks of strawberries having made their appearance in that place. They sold rapidly at 80 cents per quart.

NICHOLAS HETTY, living in the Keweenaw, a few miles out on the St. Paul road, has his house broken open on Friday night last and money, jewelry and valuable papers stolen.

MADAM BISHOP.—This celebrated singer, accompanied by her talented daughter and the renowned buffo singer, Mr. Snowick, will give a concert at the Sawyer House Hall on Monday evening next, the 20th instant.

PAID THEIR COMMUTATION.—AMBROSE SECREST, ALEXANDER DRAVEN, VIRGIL PALI and GEO. MCNELLY, drafted men from Baytown, and B. J. MASTERN of Greenfield, have paid their regular three hundred dollars each.

HOMES AGAIN.—We were pleased to see on our streets the other day the good natured and jovial countenance of our old friend HENRY B. BEACH, who has been absent in New Orleans and vicinity for nearly a year.

PROMOTED.—Second Lieutenant H. H. GILBERT, well known in our city, has been promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant and Quartermaster of the Sixth Regiment, vice Cadever, promoted.

BACK AGAIN.—MR. ANTHONY ZOLLER, in former years well known as one of our business men, has just returned from Switzerland after an absence of nearly two years, intending to make this his permanent residence.

APPLE RIVER DRIVE.—We are informed by a gentleman who is perfectly posted in the log business, that a large crew of men are at work on Apple river, and that a large drove of logs—estimated at from six to thirteen millions—will come down during the present week.

THE BAKERS ARE COMING.—This celebrated troupe will sing at Sawyer House Hall on Friday evening, June 24. The troupe consists now of four, and their reputation will no doubt be sufficient to insure a good audience.

Price of admission, only 25 cents—Children 15 cents.

REV. MR. HILLS' SCHOOL.—CLOSE OF THE FOURTH QUARTER.—The fourth quarter of this school will close on Friday of the present week, June 17.

Parents are earnestly requested to present at the examination on Friday from 10 to 12, and from 2 to 4 P. M.

HORACE HILLS.

COT. WOMEN.—These terrible pests, and vast numbers of other destroyers of vegetation, are making terrible havoc in the gardens in this vicinity. LUTE TAYLOR of the Present Journal, in alluding to their appearance in his own garden, says: "Any 'early bird,' with good references, and attentive to business, can get a good situation by applying at this office."

NOW AND THEN.—The price of ordinary printers' ink, before the war, was about twenty-five cents a pound. We had occasion, a few weeks since, to order a keg from the manufacturer's, who we find billed to us at forty cents a pound. There is scarcely an article connected with the publication of a paper which does not cost nearly one hundred per cent. more than before the war. And still advancing.

THE GREAT MENAGERIE.—By reference to the immense bills posted in conspicuous places about the city, and to the large advertisement in another column, it will be seen that MABIE'S Grand Menagerie will visit this city on the 23d of this month. It will be something entirely new in this part—a menagerie never having been in the State before. It is said to be a "big thing," at least the like of which, in fact, the whole number of votes cast.

ELECTION OF MAYOR.—MR. Z. H. FOSS, Mayor elect, being, by some constitutional defect, infirmity or unexplicable idiosyncrasy, averse to holding "the highest office in the gift of the people" of Stillwater, that of Mayor of the city—another election was ordered by the City Council to take place on Thursday of last week. It resulted in the election of W. M. McClellan, Esq., by a majority of thirty-one votes over all other candidates—that being, in fact, the whole number of votes cast.

PROF. KAHL, THE GREAT PRESTONIAN.—We are informed by his agent, that this great illusionist intends visiting our place on or about the 20th instant. We hear him spoken of as being one of the most accomplished artists in that department. The Wisconsin Daily Patriot says of him:

"Last night the City Hall was crowded to witness the wonderful feats performed by that King of Conjurers Prof. Kahl. The Professor is to be found here on Saturday evening, and the city. He performs his feats with the assistance of any kind of machinery, and so witness his great gain is certainly worth the price of admission. This evening concludes the Professor's entertainments, and we expect to see a crowded house."

"ARMED OUTRAGE."—Under this head the Springfield State Journal of Mass. has the following: "We may add that the soldiers here are now, and elsewhere feel very much like their brethren in Springfield."

MORE RAFTS.—Four log rafts, containing about 2,000,000 feet, left here on Saturday last, towed by the Clara Howe.

We are again under obligations to Senator Williamson and Representative Dooley for valuable Congressional documents.

ALLOTMENT.—Company C, Eighth regiment, has allotted eight hundred and seventy-two dollars. The money is in the hands of the State Treasurer ready for distribution.

LIEUT. JACOB MURRAY of this city, late of the First Minnesota, receives the sum of six hundred dollars for going as a substitute for a drafted man.

MISSIONARY MEETING.—The Rev. E. Doane, a missionary to the Micronesians Islands, is on a visit to this country, and will be in our city to-morrow (Wednesday) and deliver an address at the Mardi Gras church.

Mr. Doane is an interesting speaker.

The children will be delighted with his Micronesian stories and customs, and the older people interested in the work of Foreign Missions.

An invitation is cordially extended to all.

FOR PRESIDENT:
ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT:
ANDREW JOHNSON.
OF TENNESSEE.

Wisconsin Railways.

We learn from the late Hudson papers that a special election is to be held in our neighboring county of St. Croix, Wisconsin, on the 22d inst., to vote a bond in aid of the St. Croix and Lake Superior and the Tomah and Lake St. Croix railroad companies, to the amount of $25,000 each, to be expended on paying freight on iron to be laid on the roads, or in such manner as to secure the completion and equipment of the road through that county.

It is understood that all the other counties on the Tomah road will issue their bonds for $50,000 each to be expended within their limits. It will be seen by this that the Wisconsin men are in earnest about this matter of railroads. Especially are they determined to push forward with vigor the St. Croix and Lake Superior enterprise.

Our home readers are too well acquainted with the design of this road, its location &c, to demand any explanation; but they do need to realize more fully its bearings upon our own railroad interests. Every man who has given the matter thought must be convinced that our interests should be identified with the Hudson and Bayfield route. If that is completed, no power on earth can set us off from railroad connections north, east and west; if that fails, we must for aught that we can see, remain as at present a little to the northward of the "transcontinental line of intercoastal intercommunication."

Slavery Paramount to the Constitution.

Heretofore the Democratic party of North, although invariably acting in the interests of the proslavery party of the South, have pretended that they were still opposed to the system of slavery or principle—setting aside the constitution at question. Its leading men have justified its proslavery course on the pretense of obligation imposed by the compact. They have told their ignorant but liberty-loving followers how gladly they would oppose the sum of all villainies, the accursed scheme of human bondage, if they could only be relieved of the obligations of this "sacred compact entered into by the fathers."

But when the proposition is put forth to abolish by constitutional means the compact which they have been compelled, though reluctantly as they have pretended, to support, they are driven from their subterfuge and take ground exactly where the Republican party has always been—on the system of slavery or principle of constitutional protection of slavery. They now make no secret of the bill which is now before Congress proposing to amend the constitution so as to abolish slavery throughout the United States.

In the House, on the 14th, the consideration of this bill being resumed, Mr. Pruyin of New York denied that the constitution could be construed to enlarge its power so as to deal with matters beyond its reach. Two-thirds of the States can not take away the reserved rights of any State. If so, what was to prevent the absorption of territory? If right or principle could be destroyed under such a doctrine, States might be annihilated and monarchy sustained. Leave each State to say what is best for its own people and institutions.

Fernando Wood, looking through the old constitutional jiggles of the party, is enabled to find a constitutional objection to the bill:

Mr. Wood argued that the constitution was a compact and a covenant, and that control of the domestic institutions of the States was never delegated to the General Government and could not be delegated except by the consent of all the States.

The very men whose tender regard for the constitution, a few years ago, was all that prevented their being abolitionists, now find their exceeding love of slavemonger traitors so great as to make an amendment of the constitution, made in accordance with the express terms of that instrument, unconstitutional. Let the people remember this—Moderate Democracy teaches that slavery can not be abolished under the constitution, and that the constitution can not be amended in this respect except by consent of all the States.

Slavery, under Democratic rule, is therefore entitled upon the Nation forever. And the Irwins and the Woods are the men who originated and will control the Chicago convention, which is to meet two weeks from yesterday—July 4—and its nominee, whoever he may be, must be pledged to this principle secretly, if not in their platform.

DISGRACEFUL—the condition of the sidewalk on the corner of Myrtle and Second street opposite the Sawyer House.

DODGERS—a section of Second street near Clay's store house.

DANGERS—the loose stones in the last mentioned place.

IMPASSABLE—all the streets on the bluff in the northern part of the city except the Marine road, which is not much much.

SHAKY—the sidewalk on Myrtle street opposite Bronson's store.

A BIG HOLE—the hole in Third street near Myrtle street church.

WEARING THROU— the clay covering on the St. Paul road through the bluff.

COW PATHS—all the streets of the city not mentioned above.

A HAWAIIAN—the street repairs that have been carried on this season.

A REMARK BY THE EDITOR—Can not a city which can afford three Mayors in the first quarter of the municipal year, afford to do something toward improving the streets? What say the City Council, and what says his Honor?

Late dispatches from Memphis put a quietus upon the popular theory that Jeff Davis & Co. have massed all their armies in front of Grant and Sherman. It appears that quite a serious reverse, has befallen quite a strong detachment of about 12,000 Union soldiers under Gen. Sturgis in Mississippi. The expedition left Memphis about the 1st of the present month, consisting of about 3,000 cavalry, 5,000 infantry and 12 pieces of artillery.

The object was to break up the Mo. and Ohio Railroad, which had been repaired by the rebels as far up as Corinth, Miss., and at the same time to engage such of the enemy's forces as were in that part of the country.

It was supposed by Gens. Sherman and McPherson that nearly all the rebel force which had been operating in West Tennessee and Mississippi under Forrest had been withdrawn to reinforce Johnson.

The sequel showed the mistake, for at Guntown, Miss., on the 10th inst., our forces fell in with the enemy in overwhelming numbers, and a terrible battle ensued, resulting in the discomfiture of our troops.

A large portion of the infantry was captured, and, owing to the horrible condition of the roads, most of the artillery had to be destroyed and abandoned by us.

Our retreating column was pursued very sharply by the rebel cavalry to Collerville, where it had arrived at last accounts.

A large rebel infantry force was moving in the direction of Memphis, and were at Ripley when heard from last.

A train of about 100 wagons and the rest captured, the animals having been first detached and thus saved.

Gens. Polk and Forrest are reported to have been present during the engagement.

Gen. Washburn feels no apprehension for the safety of Memphis, but is confident that the place can be held against the enemy.

The election of U. S. Senator in New Hampshire.

Boston, June 10.—Aaron Cragin was to-day chosen U. S. Senator from New Hampshire, in place of Mr. Hale.

Maximilian, the Paris-made Emperor of Mexico, has come into his kingdom and set up here this the mummery of his exiled son. It is only the first act of a very solid drama. Before the curtain falls, quite a varied cast of characters, and a more than slightly complicated plot, will be developed.

We notice on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court the complaint of John L. Thorne of Hastings against the Board of County Commissioners, claiming $51, together with interest from July 1, 1853, for work and labor performed on the St. Paul and Cannon Fall road.

—Lawrence M. Keitt, the South Carolina Congressman who aided and defended Preston Brooks in the assault upon Senator Sumner, was killed at the battle of Cold Harbor. He was a Colonel in the rebel army.

NEWS ITEMS

The St. Paul Press endorses the action of the Baltimore Convention, and of course the Central Republican does not. Brown is always consistent.

The Pennsylvania Reserves have returned to their homes, having been discharged May 31.

Of the fifteen thousand men who marched to the front, about fourteen hundred and fifty return. Of original general and line officers few remain. In some regiments, the Fifth, for instance, there is not officer left who went out with the command. In the Fifth every officer has risen to position from the rank of private. All the Colonels and Lieutenant-Colonels, with one or two exceptions, have either been killed or wounded.

Adjt. Gen. Thomas, will be in Kentucky next week, and two silver eagles will take an unusually high flight, and then the slaves of Kentucky will be gathered in by this great recruiter with a rattle that will not leave a country unvisited. The epoch of pro-slavery bluster Border State sneaking and military slave driving is at an end. The negroes of Kentucky have got to fight for the Union. General Thomas goes down with plenary powers, and carries in his pocket, to start with, the organization of three regiments, the names of qualified officers who have passed Casey's board. Sixteen regiments of Kentucky blacks will swell our ranks in a few weeks.

It is understood that Henry J. Raymond is to be Minister to France in place of Mr. Dayton under the next Administration.

It is understood that Hon. J. P. Hale is a candidate for the office of Com. Gen. at Montreal, vice Joshua R. Giddings, deceased. The friends of ex-Congressman John F. Potter, of Wisconsin, are also pressing his claims to the place, and ex-Senator Preston King is talked of for the appointment.

Mr. Lincoln's prospects of re-election, recently so flattering, have received a terrible blow, for the Fairbault Central Republican has bolted the Union nomination, and the sanguine hope entertained by the loyal people of the nation that the action of the Convention would receive Brown's approval, is thus rudely blasted.

Brown indicates his intention to support the Cleveland nomination, which would of course insure the election of the gentleman whose hair is parted in the middle.—Press.

The New Orleans Times vouches for entire accuracy of the following anecdotes of Gen. Lee. When on his way from Texas, where, up to the time of the treachery of General Twiggs, he had been in the United States service, he stopped in Galveston and made a call upon a distinguished clergyman who was his warm personal friend. In the course of a conversation between the clergyman and the then Col. Lee the latter expressed himself deeply grieved at the course of South Carolina and the States which had followed her suicidal example, and that is a fact that his hope that his own Virginia might be restrained from committing the same fatal act. "But," says Col. Lee, "if she, too, go out of the Union, I shall be impelled to join my fortune with hers." This closed the interview, and General Lee, with tears coursing down his cheeks, took his departure. Said his friend, the clergyman, "if Virginia should to day go back to the Union, Gen. Lee would forsake the desperate fortunes of the rebellion, and go with his native State."

A correspondent of the New York Herald suggests that persons owing shade trees that are infested with worms will at once here a hole in the trunk of each tree extending to the centre or heart of the tree and then fill the hole up with pulverized sulphur and plug it up tight. In a short time the sulphur will spread through all the branches, and the worms will be destroyed.
